THE MEGA RAFFLE

There will be a huge raffle with fantastic prizes, including a top of the range printer from Epson, a big surprise from Canon, Software from OnOne, a camera from Sony, paper from our Sponsors PermaJet as well as Fotospeed and from many more companies who support the PAGB

We are aiming to match the more than 40 prizes at the Print Championship in 2013

<<< Photographs - Peter Gennard (1), Barbara Hawthorn (1), Louise Hill (2), Judith Parry (1), Tim Pile (4), Mike Sharples (3) and Peter Siviter (2).

AWARDS FOR PHOTOGRAPHIC MERIT IN AUDIO VISUAL

The PAGB is planning to run an APM/AV Adjudication on Sunday 10 May 2015.

Subject to confirmation at the next PAGB Executive meeting, this will be held in the Steventon Hall, Oxfordshire OX13 6RR, ½ mile from the A34 about 10 miles south of Oxford. Steventon Oxfordshire Village Web

The event is designed to attract applicants from two main groups

SPECIALISTS IN AUDIO VISUAL PRODUCTION. At advanced levels this incorporates narrative and may include elements of video, animated graphics or third party images within the limits that are spelt out on the main PAGB website

GENERAL PHOTOGRAPHERS AND SPECIALISTS, such as natural history, architectural or travel. Some photographers will submit Photo Harmony work which is very welcome. Here the emphasis is on the visual element. No script or commentary is required but the images must flow in a pleasing progression. The emphasis is on harmony in colour, tone or graphic design. The aim is not to display a collection of single photographs which may be excellent when considered individually but rather a sequence of pictures which blend well with each other and with the sound chosen.

As a personal challenge to the readers of e-news – how many with awards in still photography have the ability to sustain the standard required across the greater number of pictures needed for an AV award? I'd be delighted to be proved wrong in my assumption! Robert Albright FRPS

Applications should be submitted via your Federation PAGB Awards Officer who should be listed in your Federation Directory or Website.

You can download the Notes for Guidance for an application from <http://www.thepagb.org.uk/merit.htm>

AWARDS FOR PHOTOGRAPHIC MERIT - WORKSHOPS

When I enquired about Rod's availability to do a workshop in Kent it became obvious that free weekends are rare in the Wheelans household. "I could manage late August 2014 or January 2015 if that is helpful". Although short notice the August date was agreed, of course we forgot that it was a Bank Holiday weekend! Never the less Rod arranged for Anne Greiner, Richard Speirs and Gordon Jenkins to join him as the PAGB Hit Squad.

The KCPA formed a small sub-committee to organise the weekend for their clubs and members and other local federations were invited. As the PAGB party was travelling the length of the country, the workshop took place on Saturday and Sunday in case there was a large number of participants or to give a reasonable time for comments and advice if there was a lesser attendance. As it happened there were more than twenty on each day with another twenty as observers.

As a prelude to each day, Rod gave a presentation about the procedures and standard of work required for a PAGB award. This was liberally illustrated with pictures from successful panels, mainly at CPAGB level but with some DPAGB and MPAGB prints also, and the audience felt this was most informative and gave a splendid base for the commentary on their work when it was presented. Viewing conditions for the presented prints were such that all the observers got a good view of the work.

In addition to the PAGB team, four KCPA judges sat in and were invited to add their comments and to gain experience of the process. After two days of concentrated effort, much thought and reasoned comment, the participants and observers went home happy with the critique of their pictures and the PAGB team expressed their satisfaction with the arrangements and the quality of work they had viewed. Thankfully the return journey was rather faster than the twelve hour drive from Dumfries to Maidstone.

The KCPA are very grateful to the PAGB and, hopefully, this workshop will encourage and help those who intend to apply for a PAGB Award and it may have laid the foundations for a KCPA mentoring scheme.

The PAGB now offer an "introductory" APM Workshop to each Federation approximately two years prior to that Federation's hosting of an Adjudication. The purpose is to publicise the Adjudication by explaining how the APM work, what standard of work is required and how applications can be made. Delegates will be asked to bring a small selection of work (5 or 6) for a preliminary assessment by APM "experts" to advise them which level of Award (CPAGB, DPAGB or MPAGB) they should be working towards.

Sunday 21 September in the Welsh Photographic Federation

Now fully booked

Saturday 11th October 2014, hosted by the SPF

RPS Members' Award

JUDITH PARY DPAGB AFIAP HonPAGB

Given to an ordinary member of the Society who, in the opinion of the RPS Council, has shown extraordinary support for The RPS over a sustained period.

Judith, the Queen of Smethwick PS, is seen receiving her certificate from the President of the RPS, Derek Birch ASIS HonFRPS.

Your Editor was unable to attend the Awards but, by all accounts it was a grand event - very well organised by Jo Macdonald and her team. Congratulations to all.
